Thinking about adopting siblings?

Wondering about extending your current approval to more than one child?

This one-day workshop will consider the benefits for brothers and sisters of sharing an adoptive family and the potential challenges for both adopters and children.

The workshop will be of benefit to prospective adopters already approved for a sibling placement or considering reviewing their approval criteria to include siblings, those undergoing assessment and thinking about a sibling placement, and those giving consideration to providing a placement for a sibling of an existing adopted child.

The workshop will enable participants to:

- Explore how their own childhood experiences, either as part of a sibling group or as a single child, may influence their views on parenting siblings.
- Reflect on the life-long nature of relationships between brothers and sisters.
- Consider the challenges of reuniting brothers and sisters or integrating siblings who have not previously lived together.
- Think about how they manage sibling rivalry and the often competing needs of brothers and sisters who require placement for adoption.
- Consider the impact of shared and different early life experiences on the dynamics between siblings.
- Explore the complexities of contact for siblings with differing needs and experiences.
- Reflect on their own support needs following the placement of siblings.

What previous course participants said:

“The entire course really got me thinking about sibling dynamics and issues around contact for sibling groups. This is really the best training we have had specifically regarding siblings.”

“The training really helped me to see the world through the eyes of a child and the enormity of the loss of a brother or sister”
